

Mr. J. H. Rose, in declining the honor of being a steward at the next anniversary of the "City of London General Pension Society", does so solely in consequence of the multiplicity of his engagements, & begs leave to refer me Richardson & historians respect for the objects of that noble Institution.

Dear Mr. Gasnot

I had much pleasure in sending you the Parliamentary paper yesterday which I hope you will receive before this.

Believe me

yours truly

Rosse
